DOBRO DOŠLI NA SVJETSKI FESTIVAL ANIMIRANOG FILMA U ZAGREBU!

Dragi autori, gosti i prijatelji animacije,

Želim vam svima toplu dobrodošlicu i nezaboravne trenutke na ovogodišnjem izdanju Svjetskog festivala animiranog filma u Zagrebu.

Kao i svake godine, pripremili smo vrhunske programe, od natjecanja i panorama, najboljih novih ostvarenja svjetske animacije do remek-djela iz prošlosti. Uz tematski program lutka-filma, majstore animacije Norštejna i McLaren-a, prezentacije škola, posebne programe te projekcije za djecu i obitelji tu su i prateća predavanja, prezentacije i izložbe.

Novitet je znanstveni skup Animafest Scanner, nastao u suradnji s nekoliko obrazovnih institucija i s ASIFA-om Austrije. Na tragu je činjenice da naš festival već dvanaestu godinu (od 2002) dodjeljuje Nagradu za iznimno doprinos proučavanju animiranog filma i ambicija je skupa, kao i festivala, biti jedan od vodećih u svijetu. Cilj je dovesti najznačajnije suvremene teoretičare i proučavatelje animiranog filma i spojiti ih s autorima koji dolaze na festival predstaviti svoje filmove. S druge strane, cilj je i dati mnogobrojnim što profesorima, što studentima – animacije, filma, teatrologije i slično – uvid u nove znanstvene teze s tog područja. Ovaj susret praktičara i teoretičara na festivalu animacije trebao bi također dodatno potaknuti dijalog između autora i teoretičara te doprinijeti još boljem razumijevanju, kako međusobnom tako i animacije kao mediju.

Pozivam vas da pronađete svoje omiljene programe i da uživate u Animafestu i inspirativnim festivalskim danima.

Z... znači Zagreb!

VAŠ UMJETNIČKI,
DANIEL ŠULJIĆ

WELCOME TO THE WORLD FESTIVAL OF ANIMATED FILM IN ZAGREB!

Dear filmmakers, guests and friends of animation,

I wish you all warm welcome and unforgettable moments at this year's edition of the World Festival of Animated Film in Zagreb.

Just like every year, we have prepared for you outstanding programmes, from competitions and panoramas, to the finest latest works, to masterpieces from the past. Next to theme programme dedicated to puppet film, masters of animation Norstein and McLaren, presentations of schools, special segments and screenings for children and families, we encourage accompanying lectures, presentations and exhibitions.

This year we introduced a great novelty: the Animafest Scanner symposium. In association with several educational institutions and ASIFA Austria, this symposium is a continuation of our Award for Outstanding Contribution to Animation Studies, presented for 12 years now (since 2002). The symposium aims, just like the festival, to be one of the world leaders. The objective is to bring the most significant contemporary animation theoreticians and researchers and connect them with the authors coming to present their films at the festival. On the other hand, the aim is to provide an insight into new scholarly findings in the area to both professors and students – of animation, film, theatre and other. This encounter of theoreticians and practitioners at an animation festival should additionally spark a dialogue between the filmmakers and the theoreticians and contribute to a better understanding, both mutual and of animation as a medium.

I invite you all to find your favourite programs, enjoy Animafest Zagreb, and this whole inspiring festival week.

Z... is for Zagreb!

YOURS TRULY ART DIRECTOR,
DANIEL ŠULJIĆ

MAJSTORI ANIMACIJE > MASTERS OF ANIMATION

JURIJ NORŠTEJN – INDIVIDUALAC I MAJSTOR > NAGRADA ZA ŽIVOTNO DJELO

Jedan od najvažnijih živućih majstora animiranoga filma Jurij Norštejn autor je relativno malenog opusa, ali njegov rad svejedno ulazi u sve antologije i popise najvažnijih ostvarenja posljednjih desetljeća te se u cijelom svijetu animacije smatra jednim od najvećih dostignuća. Isprva radi kao fizer, crtač i animator, s Arkadijem Turinom bio je koautor 25. listopada – prvog dana (1968), filma nadahnutog vizualnošću sovjetske avangarde, a s Ivanom Ivanov-Vanom napravio je prvo Godišnja doba (1969) a potom, osvojivši nagradu na prvom Animafestu, animirani spektakl Bitka kod Kerženca iz 1971, nastao prema djelu velikog skladatelja Rimski-Korsakova, a vizualno utemeljen na ruskoj srednjovjekovnoj vizualnoj tradiciji. Kao samostalan autor najviše se nadovezuje na folklorne, bajkovite i druge tradicijske elemente, stalno usavršavajući tehniku fotografiranja, animiranja i postprodukcije, razvivši nov, jedinstven i prepoznatljiv umjetnički rukopis. Lisica i zec (1973), Čaplja i žral (1974) te Ježić u magli (1975), iznimna i danas rado gledana ostvarenja, postavljaju temelje Norštejnovo remek-djelu Bajka nad bajkama (1979), još jednom pobjedniku Animafesta, djelu često proglašavanom najboljim animiranim filmom svih vremena.

YURI NORSTEIN – AN INDIVIDUAL AND A MASTER > LIFETIME ACHIEVEMENT AWARD

One of the most important living masters of animated film, Yuri Norstein created a relatively small body of work, but his work is nevertheless included in all the anthologies and lists of the most significant achievements in recent decades and is in the animation world globally considered one of the greatest accomplishments. At first he worked as a phaser, cartoonist and animator and together with Arkadij Tyurin he made 25th, The First Day (1968), a film inspired by Soviet propaganda visuals. With Ivan Ivanov-Vano he made Seasons (1969) which won a prize at the first Animafest, followed by The Battle of Kerzhenets (1971), based on a work by the great composer Rimsky-Korsakov, visually leaning on Russian medieval visual tradition. As an independent filmmaker he mostly leaned on folklore, fairy-tale and other traditional elements, constantly perfecting photographing, animation and post-production techniques, developing a new, unique and recognisable artistic handwriting. The Fox and the Hare (1973), The Heron and the Crane (1974) and Hedgehog in the Fog (1975), exceptional and still today favourite works, served as a basis for Norstein's masterpiece Tale of Tales (1979), another Animafest winner, the work often called the best animated film of all times.

3 X 3 INTERVJU > INTERVIEW

Troje autora, tri pristupa, tri priče koje otkrivaju velike potencijale. Program 3 x 3 zamišljen je kao tri „mini“ samostalne retrospektive troje izabranih mladih autora, mladih majstora, čiji su filmovi zastupljeni u natjecanju i panorami. Talijan Roberto Cantani (1965) inspirira se simbolima, snovima i talijanskom avant-gardom, mađarsko-poljski umjetnik Tomek Ducki (1982) pokretom, a Slovenka Špela Čadež (1977) lutkama.

1. ANIMAFEST: Možete li istaknuti neka stalna obilježja vaših djela, smjernice kojih se pridržavate od početaka, preko studentskih i diplomskih filmova, do profesionalnih? Postoji li nešto kao vaš potpis, lajtmotiv koji nadilazi različitost tehnika i tema?

ROBERTO CATANI: Moji su filmovi redom vrlo intimni i osobni, a njihova konstanta leži u kontinuiranom introspektivnom traganju. Formalni i tehnički aspekti, koliko god suštinski za filmsku umjetnost, moraju se prilagoditi temi i emocijama koje djelo pripovijeda.

ŠPELA ČADEŽ: Kada započem planiranje filma priču postavljam vrlo široko. No naposletku nekako uvijek završim s povezanim temama ljubavi i usamljenosti. Po mojem mišljenju priča mora "držati vodu" i ona za mene nadilazi tehniku, tako da medij koristim prije svega kao podršku priče. Privlače me nadrealni trenuci koji se mogu iskoristiti u čudesnom mediju animiranog filma.

TOMEK DUCKI: Osnovni je sastojak mojih filmova strukturalistički pristup pokretu, bilo da se radi o plesu kao u My Turn, sportu poput umjetničkog klizanja u Crti života ili plivanja prsnim stilom u Kupalištu, tipovima životinjskog ili ljudskog ponašanja i držanja, poput djelomično paraliziranih osoba u Tihom dodiru. Prepostavljam da mi je svojstven i određen minimalistički i funkcionalni pristup dizajnu jer najprije konceptualno odaberem boje i stil, a potom se trudim upotrijebiti samo nužne elemente. Takav je pristup ujedno i vrlo praktičan: um mi se ne preopterećuje, već se usmjerava na konačnu poruku.

2. ANIMAFEST: Koji su aspekti ljudske prirode s jedne, a koji umjetnički utjecaji s druge strane, najviše pridonijeli vašim djelima?

ROBERTO CATANI: Teme djetinjstva i samoće snažno stimuliraju moju maštu te stoga zauzimaju i središnje mjesto u filmovima. Na sličan se način dinamika svakodnevice u svim svojim vidovima, poput ljudskih odnosa, privlačnosti, razočaranja - ukratko života, oduvijek nalazila u temelju mojih djela.

ŠPELA ČADEŽ: Ljudski odnosi me najviše privlače kao tema. Više nego li umjetnička djela, na moj rad utjecao je svakodnevni život.

TOMEK DUCKI: Privlači me način na koji ljudski mozak svaki pokret interpretira kao nešto antropomorfno i znakovito, pa bilo to i puko nijhanje grane u zraku. U našem umu ono može postati vrlo kompleksno i čak stvoriti društveno-političke probleme.

Three authors, three approaches, three stories that reveal great potential.

Programme 3 x 3 is designed as three "mini" retrospectives from the three selected young authors, young masters, whose films are part of the competition and panorama. The Italian Roberto Cantani (1965) inspired by symbols, dreams and Italian avant-garde, Hungarian-Polish Tomek Ducki (1982) by movement, a Slovene Špela Čadež (1977) by puppets. Here is what they say about themselves.

1. ANIMAFEST: Are there some constants, continuities in your work, some stylistic or narrative signatures, guidelines which you kept from your first films, through student and thesis movies, up to professional ones? Is there some sort of leitmotiv, or your special mark, something that goes beyond techniques and subjects?

ROBERTO CATANI: My few works are very intimate and personal. If there is a constant in my films, I believe this is in the continuous introspective research. The formal and technical aspects are essential in the creation of the film, but they are adapted to the themes and emotions narrated in the films.

ŠPELA ČADEŽ: When I start planning a film I plan the story very widely. Though somehow in the end I've always ended up with related topics – love and loneliness. The story in my opinion "has to hold water", the story for me goes beyond the technique. So most of all I try to use the media to support the story. I like the surreal moments that can be used only in the wonderful medium of animated film.

TOMEK DUCKI: There is one ingredient to be found in each of them: I always pick a structural style for movements, they can be based on dances (My Turn), sports (Life Line = figure skating, Baths = breaststroke swimming) or type of animal or human behaviours (Silent Touch = partly paralyzed people). I guess, there is also a minimalistic and functional approach in design, like I pick my colours and style very conceptually and I try to use the least elements needed. This is very practical too: my brain doesn't explode during the work and I can concentrate on the final message. This might also come from the fact that used to be a logo and poster designer.

2. ANIMAFEST: Which aspects of human nature on the one hand, and which artistic influences on the other, have been most relevant for your work?

ROBERTO CATANI: The themes of childhood and solitude are very interesting to me and they strongly stimulate my imagination. I think that these two aspects of human existence play a central role in my work. In the same way, the dynamics of everyday life in all its aspects, human relationships, affections, disappointments (in a word, life) have been fundamental for my work.

ŠPELA ČADEŽ: Human relationships are the most fascinating for me as a subject. More than artworks I believe my work is influenced by daily life.

TOMEK DUCKI: The simplest thing which I can say is that I like the process of how human brain is interpreting every movement as something meaningful and anthropomorphic, even if it's only a waving branch in the air. In our mind it can become very complex, creating even social and political issues.

McLAREN OVI KLASICI INTERVJU

Animafest se prodružuje u obilježavanju 100. godišnjice rođenja Normana McLaren-a, strastvenog umjetnika, filmaša i muzičara i razgovara s Marcom Bertrandom, producentom kanadskog NFB-a i selektorom filmske retrospektive

ANIMAFEST: Kojim ste se smjernicama vodili prilikom sastavljanja retrospektive McLarenovih filmova kojom se obilježava 100. godišnjica njegova rođenja?

MARC BERTRAND: Program koji će Animafest prikazati osmišljen je prilikom izdavanja DVD-kolekcije McLaren Master's Edition. Uključeni filmovi restaurirani su na 35 mm vrpcu kako bi bili prikazani na festivalu u Cannesu, u programu Cannes Classics. Nakon predstavljanja u Grand Palaisu, projekcija je održana i na plaži okruženoj jahtama usidrenima u zaljevu. Bilo je zabavno promatrati tamošnju publiku zadivljenu McLarenovim kratkim animiranim filmovima, od kojih su mnogi eksperimentalni. Taj svijet više je navikao na linearne, narativne klasične filmove, no program je definitivno skrenuo pozornost na nešto drukčije i zaslubošto poštovanje. Namjera programa jest predstaviti različite tehnike u kojima je McLaren stvarao te ponuditi uvid u njegove brojne talente i interes - on je naime uvijek tvrdio kako ga fascinira pokret, a ne statična slika.

ANIMAFEST: Kako biste ukratko predstavili McLarenu nekome čije poznavanje animiranog filma ne nadilazi punu animaciju? Možete li nam dati kratak tečaj „McLaren za neznanice“?

MARC BERTRAND: Rad Normana McLaren-a proizvod je kreativne struje takve snage da se njezin doseg može precizno izmjeriti jedino u cijelini. Bilo bi teško cijeniti umjetnikovu istinsku važnost usmjeravanjem pažnje samo na pojedine aspekte njegova rada, budući da je ona rezultat bujanja koje obaseže šest desetljeća. McLarenu, osnivaču animacijskog odjela kanadskog NFB-a, pošlo je za rukom podariti kanadskoj animaciji poticaj i smjer na temelju kojih ona i danas cvijeta, sedam desetljeća nakon što ga je John Grierson zaposlio. McLarenova osobnost i filozofija neodvojivo su od smjera kojim je animacija krenula na NFB-u. Neumoran inovator, McLaren je bio predvodnik kreativnog koncepta animacije po kojem su se animatori smatrali majstorima što vode računa o svakoj fazi produkcije svojih filmova. Time je dao primjer kolegama, motivirajući ih da razviju vlastita oruđa i eksperimentiraju s novim tehnikama.

McLaren je potekao iz škole mišljenja koja je odbijala vjerovati kako su kinematografiju izumila braća Lumière 1895. godine.

Smatrao je da je tek treba izumiti i da su istraživanje i eksperiment prirodnih sastojci svake umjetničke kreacije. Tako je i izrastao u pionira bezbrojnih tehniki po kojima se animacija danas prepoznaje – crtanja i graviranja po filmskoj vrpci, unakrsnih pretapanja, piksilacije, sintetiziranog zvuka i drugih. U njegovu pristupu nije bilo mesta za unaprijed zadane metode i formule.

Nesvakidašnja smjelost i originalnost bile su kreativno izvorište njegova rada. Put koji je zacrtao u filmskoj povijesti osvijetljen je mnogim nagradama koje je tijekom karijere primio – Zlatnom palmom u kategoriji kratkog filma za Blinkity Blank, Oscarom za Susjede, Srebrnim medvjedom za Rhythmetic, Srebrnom plaketom u Berlinu za Zbogom dosadna briga, BAFTA-om za Blinkity Blank, Jednom bijaše stolac i Pas de deux, da se brojne kanadske nagrade i one za životno djelo i ne spominju. McLarenov značaj u povijesti animacije vidljiv je i iz utjecaja pod kojim su tisuće sineasta koji svjesno polaze njegovim stopama. Svi oni, na sebi svojstven način, dalje prenose McLarenovu vatrnu posvećenosti istraživanju. Među njima su primjerice Raoul Servais iz Belgije, Zbigniew Rybczyński iz Poljske te Kanađani Pierre Hébert, Chris Hinton i Steven Woloshen. Mnogo slavnih filmaša, poput Georgea Lucasa i Jacques-Rémyja Girerda, osnivača francuskog studija Folimage, priznaje svoj dug McLarenu. Čak se i Picasso poklonio ocu kanadske animacije, izrekavši nakon projekcije Hen Hopa: „Napokon nešto novo u umjetnosti crtanja!“ François Truffaut napisao mu je: „Oči su mi suzile dok sam gledao vaše filmove te sam se osjećao kao doista težak redatelj pred vašim usporenim, ali snažno emotivnim plesačima.“ Gotovo je paradoksalno da je eksperimentalni autor dosegao takvo priznanje, uživao u popularnosti i zadržao dalekosežan utjecaj. McLaren je bio strastven i nesmiljen istraživač. Mislim da je to ujedno i njegova poruka filmašima – budite strastveni, istražujte nova mesta, radite, radite i radite. Budite ozbiljni sa svojim poslom, ali ne shvaćajte sebe ozbiljno. Gledajte, isprobajte i zabavite se.

McLAREN CLASSICS INTERVIEW

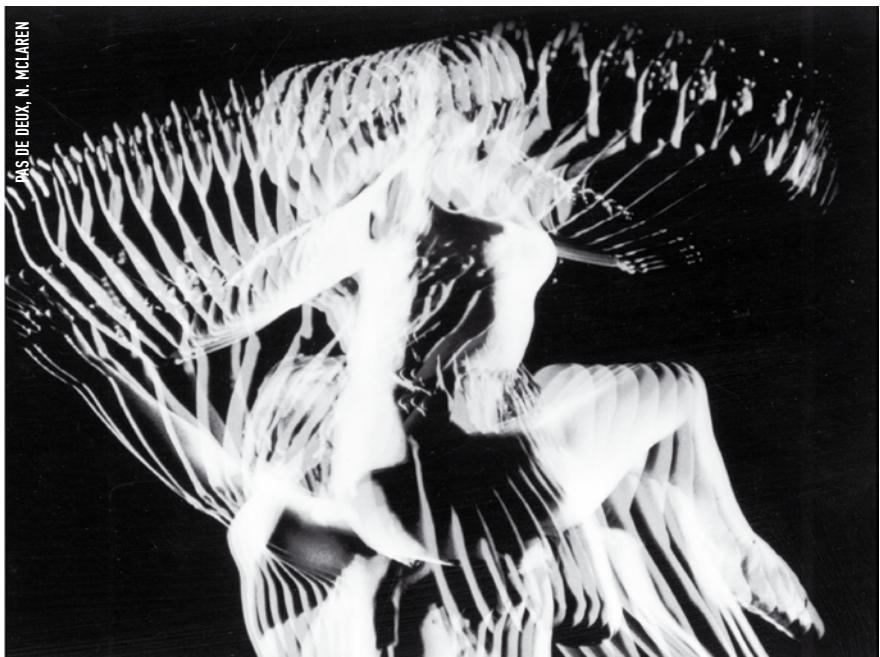

Animafest joins in celebrating the centenary of pioneering artist, filmmaker and musician, Norman McLaren, talking to Marc Bertrand, producer at the Canadian NFB and programmer of the retrospective ANIMAFEST: Which guidelines did you have in mind when putting together worldwide retrospective program to commemorate 100th birthday of Norman McLaren?

MARC BERTRAND: The program presented at Animafest was designed for the launch of the McLaren DVD box set "McLaren Master's Edition". The films included in this program had been restored in 35mm to be shown in Cannes as part of the Cannes Classic series. After the presentation of the program in the Grand Palais, I remember presenting it in the city, in the beach cinema amongst the beautiful yachts that were anchored in the bay. It was funny to see the amazement of the spectators watching the short animated films of McLaren, most of them experimental. This crowd was more used to a more linear and more narrative classic film, but this program definitely got their attention and their respect for something different. This program was built to give a display of different techniques and an insight of McLaren's many talents and interests – he always said that he was fascinated by movement and not by static picture.

ANIMAFEST: Could you sketch in a few sentences something like "Norman McLaren for dummies"? How would you present him in a digest way to someone whose knowledge of animation doesn't go beyond classical full style?

MARC BERTRAND: Norman McLaren's work is the product of a creative flux of such magnitude that its scope can only be accurately measured when considered as a whole. It would be difficult to appreciate the filmmaker's true importance by focusing on any one aspect of his work, since it is the result of an exuberance that, incredibly, spans six decades. McLaren, who was the founder of the National Film Board's animation division, succeeded in giving Canadian animation an impetus and direction that still flourish today, 7 decades after he was hired by John Grierson. McLaren was of the school that refused to believe that cinematography had been invented by the Lumière brothers in 1895. Instead, he was of the opinion that it had yet to be invented, that research and experimentation were a natural ingredient of artistic creation. He thus emerged as a pioneer of countless techniques that have become hallmarks of animation: drawing and engraving on film, cross dissolves, pixilation, synthesized sound, and more. Pre-existing methods and formulas had no place in his approach. Uncommon boldness and originality were the creative sources for all his work. The path Norman McLaren forged in the history of cinema has been illuminated by the many awards he received in the course of his career: a Palme d'Or in the short film category at Cannes for Blinkity Blank, an Oscar for Neighbours, a Berlin Silver Bear for Rhythmetic, a Berlin Silver Plaque for Begone Dull Care, BAFTAs for Blinkity Blank, A Chairy Tale, and Pas de deux, not to mention numerous Canadian awards, as well as the honours bestowed in recognition of his overall achievements. But McLaren's importance in the history of film animation is also evident in the influence he continues to have on hundreds of filmmakers and artists who consciously follow in his footsteps. All of them, in their own way, carry the McLaren flame forward by virtue of their dedication to research and exploration. Among them are Raoul Servais of Belgium, Zbigniew Rybczynski of Poland, and Canadians Pierre Hébert, Chris Hinton, and Steven Woloshen. Those who have acknowledged their debt to McLaren among famous filmmakers are legion: George Lucas and Jacques-Rémy Girerd, the founder of the French studio Folimage, are but two. Even Pablo Picasso paid homage to the father of Canadian animation. After attending a screening of Hen Hop, Picasso declared, "At last, something new in the art of drawing!" And when François Truffaut viewed McLaren's work, he wrote to him, "I had tears in my eyes watching your films, and I felt like a very heavy filmmaker indeed seeing your dancers in slow motion but in strong émotion." It is almost paradoxical that an experimental filmmaker could achieve such recognition, enjoy such popularity, and have such far-reaching influence. McLaren was passionate about what he did and was an assessable explorer. I think this is his message to filmmakers. Be passionate about what you do, explore new avenues, and work and work and work. Be serious about your work, but don't take yourself seriously. Look, try and have fun.

Svijet prema lutkarima u lutkarima najomiljenijim filmovima. Tom se idejom vodio Animafest kako bi predstavio veliku retrospektivu uvijek popularne vrste animiranog filma. Liste svojih omiljenih naslova poslalo je 45 autora-lutkara i oni s najviše bodova dio su triju programa – Majstori lutkari. Humor, politika, tajanstvenost teme su i u dvjema nacionalnim lutkarskim panoramama nastalim suradnjom hrvatskog Animafesta i francuskog Annecyja, vodećih festivala koji se ove godine osvrću na bogatu povijest stop-animacije. U njima nailazimo na domaća filmska iznenadenja na kojima su surađivali primjerice Krešo Golik ili Oktavijan Miletić, a peti program Skrivena blaga donosi dva srednjometražna filma, nedovoljno poznata kurioziteta.

World according to puppeteers in their favourite puppet films - this was the Animafest's idea behind the great retrospective of the ever-popular type of animated film. Forty-five authors-puppeteers sent lists of their all-time favourites, and ones with the highest rank are included in three programmes – Masters of Puppets. Humour, politics and mystery are recurring themes both in the two national puppet film panoramas, made in collaboration between Croatian Animafest and French Annecy, two major festivals looking back on the rich history of stop motion. There we find some national gems, as well as two astonishing mid-length pieces in the Hidden Treasures programme.

NICK PARK, NAJBOLJI SVJETSKI LUTKAR INTERVJU

ANIMAFEST: Pogrešne hlače 45 uglednih autora lutka-filma proglašilo je najboljim filmom velike svjetske retrospektive ove tehnike koja će biti prikazana na 24. Animafestu. U čemu se Pogrešne hlače razlikuju od drugih filmova s Wallaceom i Gromitom? Što se, po vašem mišljenju, u tom filmu moglo dopasti selektorima ove svjetske top-liste?

NICK PARK: Vrlo sam ponosan što je moj film odabran u ovoj konkurenciji, a da vam pravo kažem i moje je mišljenje da su Pogrešne hlače najbolji film s Wallaceom i Gromitom. Veliki izlazak ipak je bio studentski film, nastao u vrijeme dok još nisam znao mnogo o strukturiranju priče te ga ne bih ni završio bez pomoći studija Aardman. U Velikom izlasku događaji su se nizali bez pravog zapleta i narativne strukture - film je počivao na u osnovi ludičkoj ideji s linearnom fabulom o tipu koji gradi raketu kako bi otisao na mjesec. Radeći Pogrešne hlače prvi sam put uz sebe imao scenarista (Boba Bakera, op. a.) koji mi je pomogao izraziti neka nadahnuća, primjerice ona Hitchcockovim filmovima. Pogrešne hlače film su s originalnim, idiosinkratičnim i pomalo čudnim zamislama kao što su „stanar“ pingvin i tehno-hlače. Priča Pogrešnih hlača dovoljno je kratka da u svojih tridesetak minuta bude uvjerljiva - nije zasićena zapletom pa ostavlja mjesta empatiji za likove. Čak ni scena potjere ne traje predugo. Dok smo je snimali morila me dilema hoću li tim tomidžerjevskim trikom narušiti u osnovi polagan mystery-suspense film. Da budem posve iskren, nismo baš u svakom trenutku znali što točno radimo, no bilo je uzbudljivo i upalilo je.

ANIMAFEST: Najveći broj filmova napravili ste animacijom plastelinskih lutaka. Zašto ste između raspoloživih tehnika odabrali baš meke materijale, koje su posebnosti rada s njima i koje stilske mogućnosti, nedostupne drugim tehnikama, oni donose?

NICK PARK: Još kao dvanaestogodišnji dječak eksperimentirao sam s raznim tehnikama, crtežom, kolažom, kredom, ali i plastelinom. Uvijek su me privlačile izravne, neposredne tehnike koje ne traže mnogo planiranja jer mi se činilo kako je najbolje da se sve „dogodi“ ispred kamere. Plastelinu nisam bio suviše sklon, dijelom i stoga što je u njemu vrlo teško animirati. Mnogo je praktičnih teškoća, poput okolnosti da se materijal vrlo brzo ugrije pod rasvjetom. Animacija lutaka koju sam imao prilike vidjeti na festivalima činila mi se k tome bližom igranom mediju u kojem su se njome koristili majstori specijalnih efekata. Tijekom školovanja na Nacionalnoj školi za film i televiziju (National Film and Television School) ponovno sam se, međutim, vratio plastelinu i tada mi se bezrezervno svidio. Odlučio sam priču o čovjeku koji u podrumu gradi raketu realizirati kao lutka-film. Wallace i Gromit: Veliki izlazak (A Grand Day Out, 1990) koji sam započeo kao student pokazao mi je da su moji likovi doista rođeni iz plasteline i da izvan njega ne bi mogli postojati.

ANIMAFEST: Što ste pomislili kada ste napokon dovršili prvi film s Wallaceom i Gromitom Veliki izlazak? Jeste li očekivali takvu popularnost? U kojoj su mjeri uspjesi poput osvajanja Oscara utjecali na Vaš život i rad?

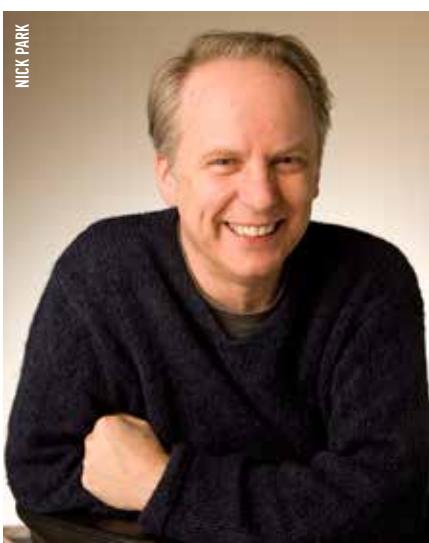

NICK PARK: Do trenutka kad sam završio film bio sam potpuno nepoznat, a u sljedećem sam dotaknuo nebo kada su i on i Životinjsko carstvo u istoj godini nominirani za Oscara. Bio sam ponosan što sam nominiran uz velikog talijanskog animatora Bruna Bozzetta, čijem sam se radu divio tijekom studija. Životinjsko carstvo osvojilo je Oscara i odjednom se dogodio veliki udar - i ja sam postao slavni animator, što je, dakako, bila velika promjena u mom životu. Nekoliko godina poslije ponovno Oscar s Pogrešnim hlačama, pa dugometražni filmovi - sve se ne prestano kretalo nabolje. Problem s takvim uspjesima jest što ne znate koliko će trajati, no u mom slučaju trajalo je iznenadjuće dugo - bilo je to sjajno razdoblje u kojem sam se osjećao povlašteno. No uvijek se pitate hoćete li i sljedećim filmom moći održati taj standard. Uspjesi, nažalost, rad na filmu ne čine lakišim.

ANIMAFEST: Filmovi s Wallaceom i Gromitom često se tumače u kontekstu britanske kulture. Koji su aspekti otočkog mentaliteta, umjetnosti i povijesti najznačajniji za vaš rad - književnost, film, dizajn, animacija, popularna kultura, svakodnevica...?

NICK PARK: Inspiraciju vučem iz svoje okoline, iz sjećanja i sitnica s kojima sam odrastao, iz filmova koje sam gledao. Okolina me i usmjerila prema lutka-filmu - mogućnost da oblikujem male svijećnjake, stare stolice i uzorke koji su me okruživali. Odrastao sam 1960-ih kada je sve što smo imali bilo ustvari polovna roba iz 1950-ih. Volio sam tu poslijeratnu, pomalo oblu estetiku - percipirao sam je privlačnom i prijateljskom. Teško mi je iz vlastite britanske perspektive reći što je to distinkтивno britansko u mome radu, ali pretpostavljam da su to sustegnuto, nepotpuno izražavanje i suptilnost.

ANIMAFEST: Kako stvarate humor u svojim filmovima? Čini se kako osobito držite do gega i tajminga, dinamike koja proizlazi i iz specifičnosti materijala...

NICK PARK: Obično počnem žvrljanjem skica po bloku za crtanje i postavljanjem jednostavnih situacija - igranjem s mogućnostima. Potom dalje crtam i testiram što više zanimljivih i zabavnih ideja koja proizlaze iz tih situacija. Kad sam počeo raditi na liku pingvina iz Pogrešnih hlača imao sam samo jednu skicu i pretpostavku što bi se dogodilo da pingvin ostane u kući. Potom sam ga nacrtao kako zapinje u usisavaču, kako se vozi u igračkama, automobilu i vlakiću. Volim se igrati s pokretom u crtežu sve dok mi ne dođe pomisao "Hej, ovo bi bilo zgodno modelirati". Maločas sam ustvrdio da je pisanje najvažnije, ali animacijska tehnika je također važna. Ona je dio šarma ove umjetnosti. I kao što sam već rekao, Gromit ne bi bio ono što jest da je napravljen u drugoj tehnici. Uvijek sam kretao od bloka za crtanje i činim to sve do danas. Potom odlazim do scenarista s kojim osmišljavam cijelovitu priču kako bih povezao pojedine situacije i likove s papira. Ako središnja priča koja nosi djelo nije duhovita, neće biti ni pojedini segmenti. I u toj fazi nastavljam šarati, tragati za smiješnim. Izbori likova također moraju biti smiješni, obrati moraju biti iznenađujući, neočekivani i šašavi. Možete utrošiti mnogo vremena kako biste postigli dobro funkcioniranje osnovne linije radnje i onda shvatiti da jest dobra, ali nije i duhovita. U takvim slučajevima vraćate se natrag i tražite što je to što biste mogli "uvrnuti" da je učinite smiješnom.

RAZGOVOR U CIJELOSTI PROČITAJTE NA WWW.ANIMAFEST.HR

NICK PARK, WORLD'S BEST PUPPTEER INTERVIEW

ANIMAFEST: The Wrong Trousers was selected by 45 international artists as the best movie of the world retrospective of this technique that will be shown at the World Festival of Animated Film in Zagreb. What are the subtle differences between Wallace and Gromit films - which one do you personally prefer and why? What do you think appealed to international electors in The Wrong Trousers, as opposed to your other movies?

NICK PARK: I am very proud of being selected by all these distinguished filmmakers. The Wrong Trousers in my mind is also the best one, the best Wallace and Gromit movie. The first one, A Grand Day Out, was nevertheless a college film that Aardman helped me to finish, made at the time when I still did not know much about the story structure. In A Grand Day Out events follow one another without a real plot or narrative – the film was based on a very whimsical idea about a guy who builds a rocket to go to the moon. It's all very linear, there is no any plot really. Working on The Wrong Trousers, it was the first time I had a screenwriter (Bob Baker) who helped me express some inspirations, for example Hitchcock's films and others that I liked. The Wrong Trousers is a film with original, idiosyncratic and somewhat strange combination of ideas like the penguin lodger and techno-trousers. The story of The Wrong Trousers is small enough to breathe and be convincing in its 30 minutes – it is not packed with plot so there is chance for characters to breathe and plenty of room for empathy towards the characters, for the audience to feel strongly with them. Not even the chasing scene is too long. At the time I remember, I was thinking whether this Tom-and-Jerry style chase would ruin the basically slow-burning, mystery-suspense movie. I wasn't sure it would work. To give you a small clue – we did not always know what we were doing, but it was exciting and it worked.

ANIMAFEST: Among all of the available animation techniques, why have you chosen stop motion plasticine / clay animation for the most part of your career? What are the particularities in working with it and what does it bring in the matter of style and approach to animation?

NICK PARK: Even as a 12-year-old boy I experimented with different techniques, drawing, cut-out, blackboard, but also clay. I have always been interested in direct, immediate techniques that do not need a lot of planning, because it seemed like the best thing to have everything 'happen' in front of the camera. I was not too inclined to clay, partly because it was very hard to animate with it. There are so many practical difficulties, for instance, the material very quickly heats up under the lights. Besides, puppet animation I had a chance to see at festivals seemed much closer to live action, which was what FX technicians used it for. However, while I was at the National Film and Television School, I returned to clay and loved it unconditionally. I decided to pursue the idea of the story about a man making a rocket in his basement as a puppet film. Wallace and Gromit: A Grand Day Out (1990), which I began making as a student, showed me that my characters were truly born out of clay and could not exist outside of it.

ANIMAFEST: What went through your mind when you finished your first Wallace and Gromit movie A Grand Day Out? Did you expect it to be so popular and what was the creative mission you set in front of you before you started? In what way did the success of your movies (Oscars and other prestigious awards, warm welcome by the audience) changed your life?

NICK PARK: Before A Grand Day Out and Creature Comforts I wasn't known at all, and then suddenly I touched the sky with two movies that were nominated for an Oscar in one year. I was proud to be nominated alongside the great Italian animator Bruno Bozzetto, whose works I admired in college. Creature Comforts won an Oscar and it was a big splash, it made a lot of impact, so I was suddenly this famous animator. This was a big change for me. A couple years later, another Oscar, with The Wrong Trousers, followed by feature films – everything was constantly going upwards. The problem with such successes is that you do not know how long they will last, but in my case they lasted surprisingly long – it was a great period and I felt really privileged. But you still wonder "can I better than in any way". Unfortunately, a success does not make filmmaking easier.

ANIMAFEST: Wallace and Gromit movies have often been called distinctively British. Which aspects of British culture are most significant for your work – literature, film, animation, design or popular, everyday culture?

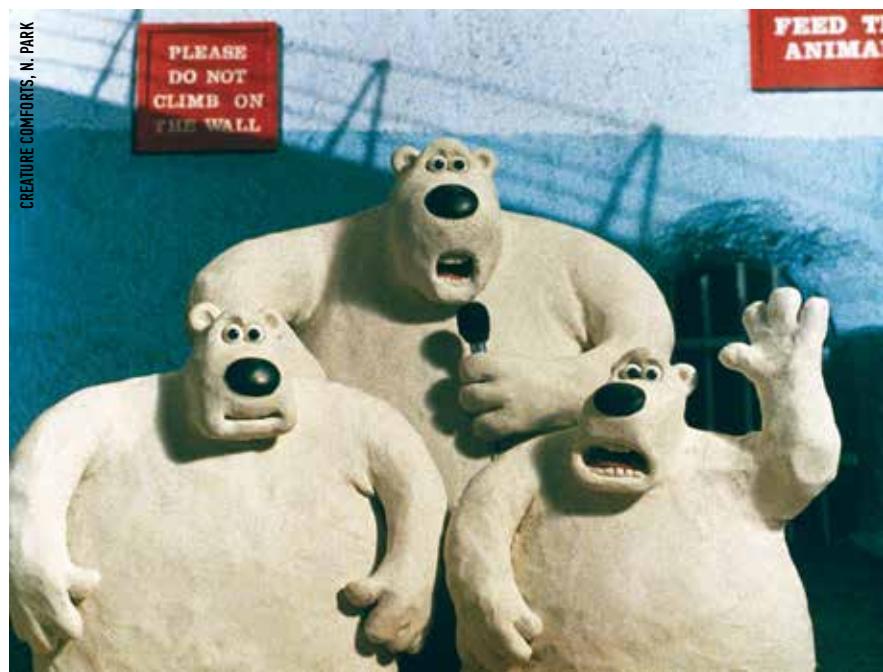

NICK PARK: I draw ideas from things around me. They tend to come from things I remember or grew up with, or from movies I saw. That's what attracted me to model animation as well – the chance of making small lampstands behind Wallace, chairs and the patterns that surrounded me. I grew up in the 1960s, when everything we had was second hand from the fifties. I liked this post-war, kind of round aesthetic – I saw it as something friendly. From my own British perspective it is hard to tell what is distinctively British in my work, but I suppose it is subtlety and understatement.

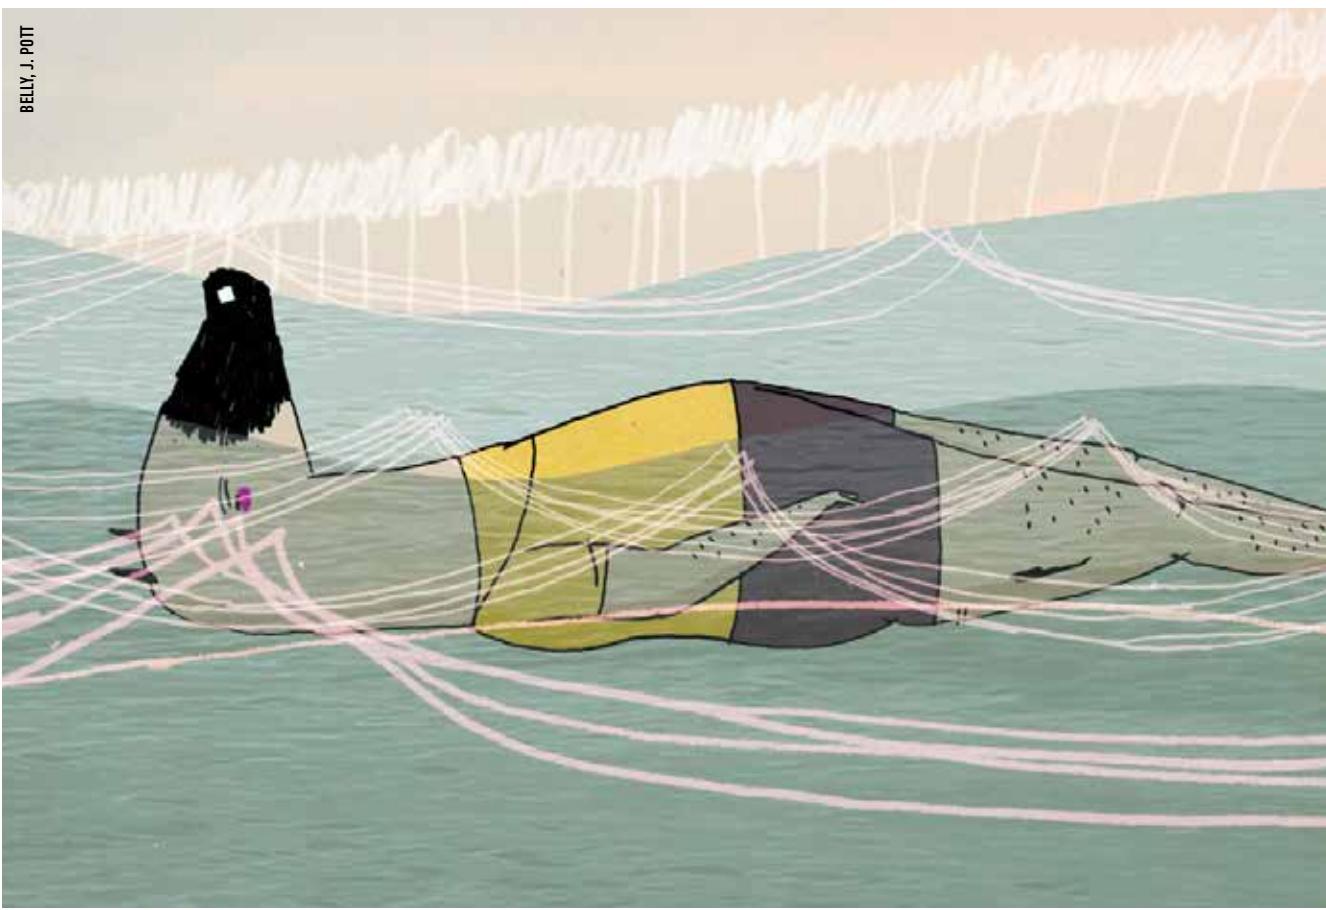

ANIMAFEST: It seems that for a humorlessness of your characters gag and timing (dynamic), combined with specific material, are the most important – can you comment on this bond? How do you perceive humour and in what ways are you creating humorous situations in your films?

NICK PARK: I tend to start just with doodling sketches in my sketch book and creating simple situations – just playing around with possibilities. Then I keep drawing and testing as many interesting and funny ideas coming out of these situations as possible. When I started working on the penguin character in The Wrong Trousers, I had few drawings and assumption what would penguin get up to if he stayed in the house. Then I drew him getting stuck in a vacuum cleaner, riding in toys, cars, trains. I like just playing with physical in a drawing, all until I think: 'Hey, this would be nice to make as a model'. It's funny I just said that writing is the most important thing, but animation technique, the medium is also important. It is part of this art's charm. As I already said, Gromit would probably not just happen in the same way if he was made in another technique. I have always started from the sketch book idea before, and I still do. Then I go to the screenwriter, we put cards on the wall and talk the big story arch for the characters, but I'm still doodling and thinking: what's funny here. You always have to look for the funny, that's important. And you got to get the big things right and put them together as well because if they aren't right than it won't be funny. We try to make the big story thing funny – the choices made, all the story turns should have certain quirkiness about them, as well and a certain silliness. Sometimes it takes a lot of effort just to make a story work well, but then you might do well and still look at it and say: it's great now, but it's not funny. Then you have to go back and see what could you 'twist' to make it funny again.

14 ROYAL COLLEGE OF ART

Godine 2015. studij animacije na Royal College of Art proslavit će 30. rođendan. Tim renomiranim fakultetom prošla su braća Quay, koji su studirali ilustraciju krajem 1960-ih, Phil Mulloy i Vera Neubauer. U 1980-ima Susan Young, Jonathan Hodgson ili Emma Calder afirmirali su animaciju i tada je odobren zaseban studij pod vodstvom Boba Godfreyja i Richarda Taylora, a prvi studenti animacije diplomirali su 1987. Ove godine proglašena je Odsjek za animaciju Joan Ashworth primit će Animafestovu Nagradu za najbolju školu animacije.

Na RCA nema prokušanog recepta. Od kratkih kadrova i brze montaže, preko kamere koja lebdi oko likova, do statičnih kadrova – škola, čini se, dopušta studentima da režiraju filmove onako kako najbolje osjećaju da mogu. Dakako, animacija uključuje i vizuale. Opet se čini da nema granica studentskoj kreativnosti: crteži, kolaži, kompjutori... I sve to na različite načine. Čak su iigrani dijelovi dobrodošao dokaz da je dobra škola ona koja se previše ne drži principa... I naposljetku, mnoge škole pokušavaju poboljšati kvalitetu studentske animacije skraćivanjem trajanja filma. Od 3 do 12 minuta, RCA daje svakom filmu priliku da udahne, da uzme dovoljno vremena i dočara izričaj svakog pojedinog studenta. Zbog svega ovoga odabrali smo Kraljevski umjetnički koledž, kao i zbog činjenice da studenti koji studiraju na RCA dolaze iz cijelog svijeta i tako dokazuju da je bit filma današnjice kreativnost u svoj svojoj raznolikosti.

IZ OBRAZOŽENJA SELEKCIJSKE KOMISIJE ZA STUDENTSKO NATJECANJE: TAMAKI OKAMOTO (JP/FR), ALEXIS HUNOT (FR), SLAVE LUKAROV (HR)

ROYAL COLLEGE OF ART

In 2015, the Animation programme will celebrate its 30th year at the Royal College of Art. Celebrated Brothers Quay studied there Illustration during 1960s, and later Phil Mulloy and Vera Neubauer. Animation became more established in 1982 with students including Susan Young, Jonathan Hodgson and Emma Calder who graduated in 1985 with an MA in Film and TV. At this point a separate Animation programme was validated and headed up by Bob Godfrey and Richard Taylor and the first MA Animation students graduated in 1987. This year Head of Animation at the Royal College of Art Joan Ashworth receives Animafest's Award for the Best Animation School.

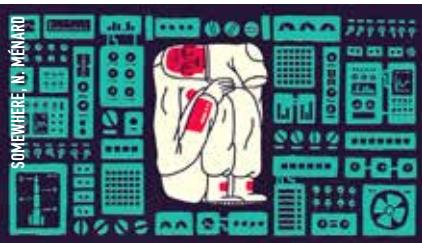

From short shots with quick editing to camera floating around the characters to static shots; it seems that the school is allowing the students to direct the films in the way which is best for each one of them. And of course, animation also means visuals. Again it seems like there are no limits for the students' creativity: drawings, cut-outs, CGI... And all this in different ways. Even live action is invited proof that a good school is a one that does not stick too much to principles ... And finally, a lot of schools are now trying to push the quality of students' animation by way of reducing the length of films. From 3 to 12 minutes, the RCA lets each film take its own breath, its own time for sharing the expression of each student. We chose the Royal College of Art for all that, and also for the fact that the students who are studying at the RCA come from all over the world and in so prove that the way of cinema today is about creativity in all of its diversity.

CARTOON D'OR 2013 PANEUROPSKA NAGRADA ZA NAJBOLJI KRATKI ANIMIRANI FILM > THE PAN-EUROPEAN AWARD FOR THE BEST ANIMATED SHORT FILM

Cartoon d'Or europska je nagrada za kratki animirani film. Utemeljena je 1991. i jedina je isključivo europska nagrada za animaciju. Svake godine nagrađuje najbolje od najboljeg, jer natječu se samo nagrađeni filmovi s najvećih europskih festivala. Godine 2013. među šest finalista pobjedili su Tim Reckart i Fodhla Cronin O'Reilly s filmom Naglavce. Dodjeljuje ju CARTOON – Europsko udruženje animiranog filma uz potporu Programa MEDIA.

The Cartoon d'Or is the pan-European award for short animated films. Founded in 1991, to this day it remains the only completely European animation prize. It rewards each year the best of the best since only prize-winning films from the major European festivals can compete. In 2013, among the six finalists, the winners were Tim Reckart and Fodhla Cronin O'Reilly with their short Head Over Heels. It is granted by CARTOON – the European Association of Animation Film with the support of the MEDIA Programme.

KINO ZA UŠI > CINEMA FOR THE EAR

Forma videospota idealna je za isprobavanje novih estetika, eksperiment, kreativno istraživanje i igru. Njome se najčešće bave mlađi autori i autorice, često još studenti. Uglavnom neopterećeni veličinom poruke, što neki „pravi“ filmovi jesu, videospotovi jedna su od najsvježijih grana animacije. U programu su zastupljeni najrazličitiji stilovi, od elektronički generiranih ispreplitanja linija, preko rukom naškrabanih, namjerno „loših“ crteža do aftereffects-eskapada. Stoga: Oy! Check this shit out, brotha!

A form of a music video is ideal for a try-out of new aesthetics, experiment, creative research and play. Most often young authors, and students, use it. Usually unburdened with the greatness of the message, which some “real” films aren’t, music videos are the most refreshing branches of animation. Programme features variety of styles – interweaving of electronic generated lines, hand made, purposely “bad” drawings, and Aftereffects-escapades. So: Check this shit out, brotha!

VIZUALNA GLAZBA > VISUAL MUSIC

Program Vizualna glazba posveta je neprekinutoj fascinaciji umjetnika pokretne slike tom kompleksnom umjetničkom formom koja ide ukorak s poviješću samog filma i njihovoj potrazi za vizualnim formama glazbe. Traganje za podudarnostima između glazbe i slike fundirano je na različitim tradicijama, iznoseći mogućnosti stvaranja, oblikovanja i povezivanja parametara zvuka i slike na bezbroj zamislivih i nezamislivih načina, rađajući neke nove vizualne forme.

KAKO DJECA GLEDaju FILMOVE? INTERVJU

ANIMAFEST: Kojim se kriterijima vodite pri izboru filmova u Natjecanje filmova za djecu i Obiteljski program Animafesta?

MARTINA PEŠTAJ: Najvažniji kriterij je primjerenoš filma djeci, kako po sadržaju, tako i po formi. Gledajući film pratim radnju i razmišljam kako će je razumijeti djeca, ocjenjujem karaktere i mogućnosti dječje identifikacije s njima, prepoznam vrijednosti, tražim poruku i prepustam se humoru. Navedene aspekte potom povežem s tehnikom animacije, odnosno likovnom estetikom i ako se sve to oblikuje u čvrstu, uvjerljivu i inspirativnu cjelinu, vjerujem da će i djeca film doživjeti kao ja. Kada biram u Natjecanje filmova za djecu doista pazim i da filmovi odgovaraju dobnim kategorijama. Obiteljski program biram nešto drugčije: u njega smještam filmove prikladne za širi dojni raspon jer računam s time da će mlađoj, predškolskoj djeci odrasli pomoći u razumijevanju. U tome vidim smisao Obiteljskog programa - aktivno druženje djece i roditelja uz vrhunske animirane filmove.

ANIMAFEST: Koje su bitne razlike pri klasifikaciji filmova za različite uzraste - što, primjerice, jedan film čini primjerenim za osmogodišnje, ali ne i za šestogodišnje dijete?

MARTINA PEŠTAJ: Razmišljanje o doboj skupini koja će najbolje reagirati na film, najbolje ga razumijeti i najjače osjetiti najdraži mi je dio posla. Svako razvojno razdoblje ima svoje zakonitosti. Kognitivni razvoj djeteta pogoduje njegovu razumijevanju radnje, osjetilni razvoj utječe na doživljaj filma, a socijalni na doživljaj tema koje su u tom trenutku djetetu važne. Djeca se među sobom, dakako, jako razlikuju, ali su im neke osobitosti u određenom razvojnem razdoblju zajedničke. To se najbolje vidi u poimanju humora. Nešto što je smiješno petogodišnjaku, desetogodišnjaku zasigurno neće biti i obratno. Ovaj dio selekcije predstavlja mi najveći izazov i radi njega važni su mi razgovori s djecom prije i poslije gledanja filma. Na taj način dobivam najiskreniju povratnu informaciju o ispravnosti svoje odluke.

ANIMAFEST: Koje kvalitete mora imati autor koji spaja umjetničku slobodu sa sadržajem primjerenim djeci?

MARTINA PEŠTAJ: Obožavam autorsku animaciju za djecu i držim da je ona izvrsna za razvoj dječjeg estetskog čula i kasnijeg interesa za umjetnost. Divim se raznolikosti likovnih izraza i tehnika te originalnosti priča, no sve navedeno mora također biti prilagođeno dječjem razumijevanju. Animacijska tehnika može na prvi pogled biti primjerena najmlađoj djeci, no ako u priči ima previše elemenata koje djeca u drotičnom razdoblju ne razumiju to neće biti dovoljno. Umjetnička sloboda - svakako, ali ako želimo raditi za djecu, unutar granica dječjeg razumijevanja.

ANIMAFEST: Postoje li tehniku, stil ili postupak koji su po sebi neprimjereni određenim uzrastima?

MARTINA PEŠTAJ: Uvijek sam iznova iznenadena kako djeca s lakoćom gledaju i razumiju čak i najneobičnije tehnike animacije, ako im se prethodno pojasne. Po mojem iskustvu jedini pristup s kojim se djeca i mladi slabije nose jest apstraktna animacija. (Ne)razumijevanje apstraktne animacije u velikoj je mjeri uvjetovano kognitivnim razvojem, potrebom za razumijevanjem priče u kojoj traže konkretnе, prepoznatljive i pouzdane elemente. Djeca nisu sposobna poput odraslih jednostavno pratiti tijek filma, već traže smisao i značenje koje mogu vezati uz osobna životna iskustva. Vjerujem, međutim, da će se djeca koja pogledaju veći broj odličnih, a za njih primjerenih animiranih filmova kasnije bez teškoča nositi i s apstraktnom animacijom.

HOW DO CHILDREN WATCH FILMS? INTERVIEW

ANIMAFEST: What was your criteria for the selection of films to be included in the Children's Competition and Animafest's Family Programme?

MARTINA PEŠTAJ: The most important thing that guided my selection was suitability for children, both in terms of form and content. While watching a film, I monitor the action and think about how the children would understand it, I evaluate characters and possibilities of children identifying with them, I recognise values, I search for the moral and let myself go to humour. Afterwards I connect these aspects with animation technique, i.e. visual aesthetics, and if all this fits into a coherent, plausible and inspirational whole,

I believe the children will have the same experience. When I am making the selection for the Children's Competition, I really pay attention to choose suitable films for different age groups. The Family Programme is somewhat different: I include the films suitable for a broader age range because I count on the adults to help the younger, pre-school children with how to read a film. This is the sense of the Family Programme – active communication between children and adults, with top rated animated films.

ANIMAFEST: What are the important differences in the classification of films according to age – for example, what makes a film more suitable for eight-year-olds than six-year-olds?

MARTINA PEŠTAJ: Thinking about the age group that will best respond to a film, best understand it and most strongly relate to it is my favourite part of the job. Every development stage has its rules. The cognitive development of a child favours the child's understanding of the plot, the sensory development affects his experience of the film and the social development has an impact on the perception of the issues that are currently important to a child. Of course, children greatly differ among themselves, but some particularities are still common for a certain age. This is best seen in their notion of humour. Something that is funny to a five-year-old will never be funny to a ten-year-old and vice versa. This part of the selection process is the greatest challenge for me and this is why I find the conversations with children before and after the film important. This is how I get the most honest feedback whether my decision was good. Years of experience have sharpened my hunch, but from time to time it happens that I put a film in a wrong category.

ANIMAFEST: What are the qualities a filmmaker should possess to connect his artistic freedom with the content suitable for children?

MARTINA PEŠTAJ: I adore creative animation for children and I deem it fantastic for the development of a child's sense of aesthetics and later interest in art. I admire the diversity of visual expressions and techniques, as well as original stories, but all of these need to be adapted to children's understanding. An animation technique can at first sight seem appropriate for the youngest children, but if the storyline contains too many elements that children that age do not understand, it will not be enough. Artistic freedom – definitely, but if our job is to work for children, it has to be within the limits of children's understanding.

ANIMAFEST: Are there techniques, styles or procedures that are in themselves unsuitable for certain age groups?

MARTINA PEŠTAJ: It never stops to amaze me how children easily watch and understand even the most peculiar animation techniques, with previous explanation. In my experience, the only approach children and youth have issues with is abstract animation. (Mis)understanding of abstract animation is greatly conditioned by the cognitive development, need for understanding of the story in which they seek concrete, recognisable and reliable elements. Children are not capable of simply following the storyline; they search for sense and meaning that relate to their personal experiences. However, I believe that children who see a larger number of outstanding animated films suitable for their age will later have no problems coping with abstract animation as well.
